2.2.4 Risk-based Approach:

2.2.4.1 It is generally recognized that certain clients may be of a higher, medium or lower risk category depending on the circumstances such as the client's financial background, type of business relationship or transaction etc. As such, SEB shall apply each of the clients due diligence measures on a risk sensitive basis. The basic principle enshrined in this approach is that we shall adopt an enhanced client due diligence process for higher risk categories of clients. Conversely, a simplified client due diligence process may be adopted for other risk categories of clients. In line with the risk-based approach, the type and amount of identification information and documents that registered intermediaries shall obtain necessarily depend on the risk category of a particular client.

Further, low risk provisions shall not apply when there are suspicions of ML/TF or when other factors give rise to a belief that the customer does not in fact pose a low risk.

2.2.4.2 Risk Assessment

- a) We shall carry out risk assessment to identify, assess and take effective measures to mitigate its money laundering and terrorist financing risk with respect to our clients, countries or geographical areas, nature and volume of transactions, payment methods used by clients, etc. The risk assessment shall also take into account any country specific information that is circulated by the Government of India and SEBI from time to time, as well as, the updated list of individuals and entities who are subjected to sanction measures as required under the various United Nations' Security Council Resolutions (these can be accessed at the URL http://www.un.org/sc/committees/1267/aq_sanctionslist.shtml <http://www.un.org/sc/committees/1988/list.shtml>).

- b) The risk assessment carried out shall consider all the relevant risk factors before determining the level of overall risk and the appropriate level and type of mitigation to be applied. The assessment shall be documented, updated regularly and made available to competent authorities and self-regulating bodies, as and when required.

2.2.4.3 Risk Classification

We should accept the clients based on the risk they are likely to pose. The aim is to identify clients who are likely to pose a higher than average risk of money laundering or terrorist financing. For this purpose, we need to classify the clients as low risk, medium risk and high-risk clients. By classifying the clients, we will be in a better position to apply appropriate customer due diligence process. That is, for high risk client we have to apply higher degree of due diligence.

Special attention must be paid to the transactions which are complex, unusually large or pattern which appears to have no economic purpose. Risk profiling is to divide into two broad categories one is on-board risk & second is ongoing risk. On-board risk is defined when a client is introduced to the company.

Risk categorization of client will be based on following parameters:

- a] If the client's location (registered office address, correspondence address) is out of India and in any of the high-risk jurisdictions as defined by FATF.
- b) Individual Client having annual income more than Rs. 1 Crores and/or Net worth of Rs. 25 Crores.
- c] Income & Net worth does not commensurate with transactions (Trading/ DP).
- d] Client dealing in Forex.

Category will be assigned based on the following criteria:

- a] High Meets all four parameters.
- b] Medium Meets three parameters
- c] Low Meets two or less

Special category customers & clients reported to FIU shall also move to the high-risk category.

- f) Companies offering foreign exchange offerings
- g) Clients in high risk countries where existence / effectiveness of money laundering controls is suspect, where there is unusual banking secrecy, countries active in narcotics production, countries where corruption (as per Transparency International Corruption Perception Index) is highly prevalent, countries against which government sanctions are applied, countries reputed to be any of the following - Havens/ sponsors of international terrorism, offshore financial centers, tax havens, countries where fraud is highly prevalent. While dealing with clients in high risk countries where the existence/effectiveness of money laundering control is suspect, intermediaries apart from being guided by the Financial Action Task Force (FATF) statements that identify countries that do not or insufficiently apply the FATF Recommendations, published by the FATF on its website (www.fatf-gafi.org), shall also independently access and consider other publicly available information.

- h) Non-face to face clients
- i) Clients with dubious reputation as per public information available etc.

The above-mentioned list is only illustrative and SEBI shall exercise independent judgment to ascertain whether any other set of clients shall be classified as CSC or not.

Training requirements have specific focuses for Frontline staff, back-office staff, compliance staff, risk management staff and staff dealing with new customers. It is crucial that all those concerned fully understand the rationale behind these guidelines, obligations and requirements, implement them consistently and are sensitive to the risks of their systems being misused by unscrupulous elements. The said training programme is being conducted through personal meeting/presentation.

Investors Education

Implementation of AML measures requires back office and trading staff to demand certain information from investors which may be of personal nature or which have hitherto never been called for. Such information can include documents evidencing source of funds/income tax returns/bank records etc. This can sometimes lead to raising of questions by the customer with regard to the motive and purpose of collecting such information there is therefore a need for the back office and trading staff to sensitize their customers about these requirements as the ones emanating from AML framework. The back office and trading staff should prepare specific literature/ pamphlets etc. so as to educate the customer of the objectives of the AML programme.
